PRESS RELEASE

Veterans with Security Clearance in High Demand; Defense Industry Job Sector Still Strong

75 Companies Interviewing for Hundreds of Jobs at TECHEXPO Top Secret Job Fairs This Week

Last update: 1:17 p.m. EST Nov. 10, 2008

WASHINGTON, Nov 10, 2008 /PRNewswire via COMTEX/ -- TECHEXPO Top Secret illustrates that the demand for employees with government and military experience is still strong even as the nation's unemployment rate reaches a fourteen-year high of 6.5%. These hiring events are the ideal place for returning veterans to utilize their active security clearances to enter the civilian workforce.

Over 75 defense contractors, federal agencies, and government service companies, including Lockheed Martin, Raytheon, the Defense Intelligence Agency, IBM, General Dynamics, Northrop Grumman and AT&T Government Solutions, will be conducting face-to-face interviews for immediate opportunities.

Wednesday, November 12, 10am - 4pm
BWI Marriott
1743 West Nursery Rd.
Baltimore, MD 21240

and

Thursday, November 13, 10am - 4pm
Ritz-Carlton Tysons Corner
1700 Tysons Blvd.
McLean, VA 22102

Admission: Free. Any level of Active Security Clearance issued by the US Federal Government or Military is REQUIRED to attend (or clearance last used within past 24 months.)

"TECHEXPO Top Secret hiring events connect top companies with experienced professionals in an ultra time-effective format," explains Bradford Rand, President & CEO of Job Expo International, producer of TECHEXPO Top Secret. He adds, "Qualified candidates can seize the opportunity to have a months worth of interviews all in one day cutting down their job search time drastically. Companies can conduct hundreds of interviews throughout the day, more so than they could ever do at their offices." On a personal note, Bradford Rand is especially pleased that there are numerous opportunities available specifically for those transitioning out of the military as well as for the veterans who have served our country.
